“ My sincere condolences to my cousin's, Dwayne's siblings, and his many friends and extended family. Dwayne was one of the most vivacious people I've ever known. Charming, caring, smart and so funny. I loved him and will miss him. I wish I could be there to celebrate his life with you. Rest in power, King.

“ I was introduced to Dwayne when his sister Carolyn who I met in 4th. grade would bring him around in his stroller. He allowed us to visit with no "crying." He was a HAPPY BABY! Then a VERY FUNNY adult with jokes :).

“ To the family of Dwayne Allen; Condolences to all of you. Dwayne will certainly be missed by all. My family like yours will miss his crazy jokes, his kindness and certainly his presence when he enters the room. We have lots of great memories of that will last a lifetime and because of this and more it's easier to let go. Rest In Peace my buddy Dwayne, thanks for all the love and kindness that you have shown to my family and myself. To my girls you were Uncle Dwayne.... Love Renee, Charli, McKenzi, Andrea, Marissa and Annette.

“ My Big Brother the reasons I was woke at 5:

It was the lessons he taught me just by being him. I looked up to my big brother, he inspired me in so many ways: To be spiritual- my 1st time going to church was with him.

To be adventurous- he was the one who officiated my 1st wedding at age 2, who took me to my 1st concert at age 5 (James Brown), who took me to Astroworld the 1st day it opened when I was 7, who inspired me to travel and aspire to see the world . To be political and get involved in the community. Why else would I write I 'm Black and I'm Proud on my toys. To be creative- he introduced me to acting by creating a part for me in one of the plays he was in at Miller Outdoor Theatre. I was amazed at his acting ability and stained glass creations and wanted to do the same. Most of all I admired his way with people, once you met him you'd never forget him. Not many understood our relationship but dear Brother you will be truly missed and hold a special place in my heart forever 🥰❤️🥺✝️

“ I remember back in 1988 when I joined United Airlines as an Flight Attendant. One of the first Black guys I met was Dwayne Allen. He was one of a kind. Dwayne was full of laughter, fun, crazy, outgoing, spiritual, loving, kind, giving/sharing. Over the years our friendship grew stronger. God Blessed us, to have a job that allow's Us to traveled all over the World. We had some of the Best times ever. I will never forget my Brother. I give thanks God for all the wonderful times we shared. Including celebrating our Birthday month in Bangkok. You will forever be missed my brother. Rest In Peace.
