“ Grieving with you all from Austin today -- and every day since we heard the heartbreaking news. Jada was a bright light in a sometimes difficult world. I know she brought that infectious light to me and my father the few times we babysat her and the boys. I feel so lucky to have had that opportunity. Sweet Jada filled the house with such joy, sass, and energy. One specific memory I will cherish: We decided to make cookies and I suggested peanut butter. "Oh no," she said. "I do not like peanut butter!" I laughed. "How about chocolate chip?" She jumped up and down "Yes!" So we made them together and created a "cookie dance" as they were baking. She skipped around the kitchen, singing "And we do the COOKIE DANCE, COOKIE DANCE! Cookie dance, cookie dance!" And Jada convinced me that she could eat far more cookies than I'm sure her mother would've preferred she had. But I couldn't resist. That memory will be seared into my brain forever. Debbie: Thank you for sharing Jada and your boys with us. We will cherish those moments. Please know we are here for you all - no matter the need. And we are praying for moments of peace from your great sorrow.

“ An offer of condolences seem so little at a time so devastating, yet I do pray that the God of all comfort, comforts this family and wraps his loving arms around each of them in a way that they continue always to feel beautiful Jada's love still pulsing in their veins knowing that she has always been God's Angel. In Jesus' Name Amen. --Sheila Stedham

“ I can't imagine

I can't imagine lighting a match and tossing it into a forest. Even if the soil returns richer.

I can't imagine being thirsty, walking into my neighbors home drinking directly out of the pitcher.

I wouldn't dare.

I can't imagine eating a meal amidst family while they starved, I'd undoubtedly be compelled to share.

Imagining losing a child, is something I don't want to do but empathy is necessary, not just demanding it when undesirable circumstances are happening to you.

Unbearable. Insurmountable. Heartbreaking.

A few painful stand alone words come to mind.

My thoughts and prayers go up for each of us, whether you've lossed yours or I've lossed mine.

Thank the Lord for tossing matches into our lives, setting our existences ablaze. His love, grace and mercy will never cease to amaze—we must depend on it each day.

I refuse to imagine it any other way.

“ *Jada was my student in gymnastics and always gave me a smile when she walked in. My heart is heavy knowing we’ve lost a beautiful very sweet little girl. “ My deepest condolences to Jada's family. We are praying for all of you. I wanted to share a memory, I had the privilege to meet Jada and her mom one day afterschool (not too long ago) as Jada had walked back into the building to use the restroom because it was urgent! After seeing her mom waiting patiently, I asked if I could help and came back into the building looking for Jada. It turns out this princess had decided to walk all the way back to her teacher's classroom to use that specific restroom rather than the hallway ones. We had a good laugh as we walked back to her mom, as she explained the reason for her delay. Even though Jada didn't really know me, after that encounter, Jada would stop me in the hallway with a greeting and sweet radiant smile when she saw me. Her laughter and energy will greatly be missed.
