“ One of the best people that I have had the honor of being called his friend. Tremendous family man that loved his children and grandkids. A great inspiration to me because he is the sole reason that I stayed in Houston when I was down in Compton replating I'm going back to Louisiana Back in the 90s. And Jeff told me you can't keep running forever. You have to put your roots in the ground and endure the little struggle that you're gonna go through to become successful. Thank you for all the wisdom, kindness, friendship and love. Rest easy, my dear friend

“ Jeff, we will always love you. My little comedic brother. I will miss the times when I need a laugh during my down times, you won't be there not in body, but you will be there in mind and soul. This has been a rough month, not only for me but for all of us. You are not here, bruh, to make us see it better. But one for sure, you are in a better place right now. So rest peacefully!!! We love yoJeff, we will always love you, my little comedic brother. I will miss the times when I needed a laugh during my tough moments. You may not be here in body, but you will always be with us in spirit and memory. This has been a rough month, not just for me but for all of us. You're not here to help us see things in a better light, but one thing is certain: you are in a better place now. So rest peacefully! We love you!

“ My heart is saddened by this loss. Your loud laughs and big smile will definitely be missed. I definitely always new that when my birthday came you would always be the first to text me ,being its tje same as your mom 12/6. I will miss laughing about me always asking you was yours the day before mine or after mine. You would always say " Naw Darla We Beem Through This". I'm grateful that me and my boys have so many fond memories with you and of you. May you now rest in God's love and peace, you've done your part here on earth.

Thank you for all the Baby Bottle Pops you spoiled me with over the years. You were always the loudest, funniest uncle, and nearly every memory I have with you makes me laugh. I'm so grateful for your constant support, especially during my pregnancy. I'll miss you deeply. I love you.*
