“ I’m extremely thankful I got to meet you , I’m thankful for the time I got to spend with you , now that I look back in my notes from years ago I used to put in my notes like god send me someone who would show me love and affection and accept me for me , and you was exactly what I asked for , you showed me love no matter how much I got on your nerves or if I pissed you off 😭 , but in all honesty I think you fell In love after the first date lol. These videos I put together is just happy moments, these are my favorite videos because everytime I tried to take pics of you , you didn’t wanna smile but I caught you in some. Sometimes I feel nobody will ever understand the empty space I feel inside , you were my peace to life , you came in the right time in my life💙 i feel god knew I needed you , I still don’t understand why he needed you so soon but I know your okay ☐👤 I will forever love you always 💙 I can’t wait to see you again , I have so much I wanna tell you , I have so much love for your family because there all a piece of you and everytime I’m with them I feel closer too you ❤️

I met you in 10th grade and taught and mentored you all the way to graduation and I even got to enjoy watching you celebrate at prom and graduation!! You lived a great life. May you rest and live on in the amazing memories you have left us with.
