“ When I heard that you were gone, I couldn't believe it. I knew you as this quiet, shy, funny, very books-smart person and a very kind person. I will miss you very much. I know you are at peace now. See you soon 🕊️🙏

“ You were always there Xola...from the beginning you were there. 15 years. I love you. I'm blessed for the opportunity to love you. I'm blessed to have you at our table during holidays. You were there when I graduated with my associates, my bachelors, when I had Sophia and you took care of Mikayla for me while I was in the hospital. All the times you watched Mikayla and kept her safe. All the times you helped me and your uncle around the house. The conversations. Our last conversation I told you I loved you and I said it more than once. You said, "I know you do Stacy and I love you too". You are free...fly high love ❤️

“ The 10 years that we have known you as KK, Xola was full of excitement. You was always respectful, quiet and willing to help. Thanks for trying to teach me how to speak in your native language and learn your culture. There are times when your son turns, dance or smile and we see you. You will be missed and I appreciate all the knowledge you instilled in your son.

Kevyn truly loves you being his daddy and talks about all the fun things yall did together, especially with his dog and playing football.

“ My dearest brother, tears are running down my face and I am typing this. I never thought in a million years that you'd be taken away from me so soon! I will miss you so very much. I will miss your smile, I will miss your laughter, & mostly, I will miss your presence. Though I would give anything to have you physically back here on earth with me, I know you are always with me spiritually. I don't want to question Gods decision in calling you back home with him because I know he needed you more than I did, and for this, I smile. I love you, I love you, I love you.

“ I love you so much, Xola! I still can't accept the fact that you're no longer here with us. I try my best to be okay, but I'm not. I miss you so much and wish that I could go back to that day and still have you physically here with us. My heart literally aches for you. I'm truly broken-hearted. What keeps me going is knowing that you're at peace and in heaven smiling down on us. Until we meet again, sleep peacefully. I love you for life ❤️
