“ My daughter decided at the last minute she wanted an HTown rapper for her sweet 16. Since it was short notice I don't expect anyone to reply... Pam reached out and let me know the Pokey already had plans but recorded at S/O to my daughter to wish her Happy Birthday! Truly genuine! It made her day and filled my heart that they thought enough of her to grant a wish! Thank you!!!

“Energy never dies...its just changes form...we all share the "electricity" of our ancestors. The human body was never meant to last forever. No matter the circumstances our time is our time, it is predestined. We are all Holy Creatures designed by God. Travel well as you fly through the Universe on your journey we will all be together again in the end.

“So glad you came through my hometown of San Marcos, Texas I got the opportunity to meet you and have a few laughs with you. It was a pleasure meeting you and I never thought it would be my last. I always hoped to make a track with you but I never took the opportunity to do so and I regret it. I'm gonna miss you even though I didn't know you personally it still takes a toll on me.

“This was after the show in my hometown of San Marcos, Texas Big Pokey came through and put on one hell of a performance. I got to open up for him that night. I'm glad I got to meet you and I'm also sad I never got to do a feature or song with you. But just meeting you was enough. Rest easy Poyo aKA "Hardest Pit in the Litter"

“ I didn't know Big Pokey personally I was just a fan of him and SUC. Coming up as a teenager going into my early 20s I learned a lot from Big Pokey music and things I apply into my personally life. I had a real good friend that passed away a few years back but Big Pokey was his favorite rapper as well.he's the one who really trun me on to Big Pokey and really had me listening to what he was rapping about. Lol I knew then he was the hardest pit in the litter.... Rest in peace Big Pokey I love you and I'll will always bang your music loud and I wish you were still here
