“ My Queen sister, I met her in the rooms and our connection never waived even though we only saw each other in person for a short period of time! We stayed connected on social media and I always looked forward to her posts. She was such an inspiring and loveable person with a undeniable kind spirit, if you met her once you were never a stranger! Rip 🌹🙏

“ On Thursday, you left this world, but you will never leave my heart. Losing you feels unreal—like a piece of me is missing. You were my guiding light, my strength, and my constant source of love. Your wisdom, your laughter, and even your tough love shaped me into who I am today.

I will forever cherish the memories of your warmth, your sacrifices, and the way you loved us with everything you had. Though you are no longer here in body, your spirit will always surround me. I will carry your lessons, your kindness, and your legacy forward.

Rest peacefully, Mom. You will always be loved, missed, and remembered.

❤️ With all my love,
