“ First and foremost I would like to send my deepest condolences to Mr. Alan Moore and the entire Moore family. Mr. Moore is a valued teacher at Hall Success Academy, and our school is small—we have become a family. Hearing about the loss of Rex was absolutely devastating, given my own time that I shared with him. When I first became principal at Hall, Mr. Moore and Rex met my husband, daughter and I to assemble new furniture for our library. Rex was one of the most respectful young men I've ever met! Mr. And Mrs. Moore truly did a great job. He was a hard-worker, and had a great deal of admiration for his father. This was evident from the manner of which the work was completed. Everything was done exactly how Mr. Moore explained that we should do it. I couldn't even say the same for my own output! I pray that the Moore family finds comfort in knowing that they have raised such a good human. Time and words may not heal the wound of losing a child, but let the memories—those good times, remain forever in your hearts. Please know the Nickerson family is praying for you all.

“ Rex will truly be missed. He was such a sweet and mild mannered person with a beautiful spirit and smile. I'm deeply sorry for your loss. You guys are more than just friends but y'all are family to us. Bryce, Rex, Jerry and Tiara were a true example of how to be great friend to each other. I will cherish all the memories of watching them grow up together and continue to have each others back. Allen, Carla and Kameo, you and your family are forever in my thoughts and prayers. 🙏❤️

“ We (my sister and I) grew up with Rex just down the street from us. Summers were filled with us knocking on his door asking to play basketball or going to the pool or four square or just to ride bikes around the neighborhood. One of my many favorite memories of him was when all the kids on our street were dancing to “hit the quan”and “whip and nae nae” on Rex’s driveway performing it for Ms. Carla. He was such a sweet soul, always smiling, always so kind to everyone.

“ Rex was one of the coolest kids. It was a true blessing to have him on our team when he was just starting to strengthen his fundamentals and knowledge for a game that we all loved - basketball. To know him, was to love him. From his headbands to fro to braids, he had uniqueness and a bright light that exuded from him. His smile literally was contagious and could brighten any room. He worked hard and played harder. He was the smallest on the court back then but played taller than the tallest kid on the team. It was a blessing to know him and coach him. We loved him. No matter the years that have passed, he has and will always have a special place in our hearts.

We shall continue to pray for your family. May God be with each of you - strengthen and comfort you. 🙏❤️

“ I remember his smile, even as a baby. I remember him and Ben playing together - or trying to, with the difference in their ages. His energy would shine out of any picture you posted so, even though I did not get to know him as a young man, I feel like I did. All the Trozzis - Barb, Kate, Ben and Mark - send their love and prayers. We are planting trees so that he will continue to live on. Wishing I could hug you guys. -Barb

“ Rex was an absolute joy to be around. His smile lit up my day for sure. Whenever we'd meet up in the kitchen, at work, I always caught him eating something (bottomless pit!). He was always game to try anything I made. I found a post-it he left me on some paperwork a couple weeks ago. Such a sweet soul. I will miss him dearly. ❤️🙏

“ I had the honor and blessing to have been a basketball coach to Mr. RexAlan Kasey Prince-Moore during his elementary/middle school years together with Coach Tameka. His beautiful smile, calm positive demeanor, gentle soul, his love and dedication to brighten the lives of everyone around him and his teammates is something that I will carry in my heart and memories forever! Nobody played better defense, nobody was as fast and enthusiastic and focused as Rex was in that basketball court. The times that he stayed in our house to play and laugh with my sons are beautiful memories that we will cherish eternally. Heaven has gained an amazing Angel in Rex! RIP King, Rex!

“ At work, we knew that if any food came in, there must be enough to also give to Rex. He was always snacking no matter what time of the day it was! I remember giving him a lot of drama at the fact that he grabbed a leftover kolache and didn't warm it up... we then had a debate about bread and it not needing to be warm.... Ok but there's cheese in it, Rex? He nodded and kept eating as he walked away from our little debate. The nicest debate I'd ever had with someone. I'll miss our daily debates. Rex wasn't family to me but he was part of my daily life now. He always had a smile, he always laughed and became part of our pranks in the office. He always made fun out of his mistakes and would say “nothing happened” as if I didn't see a big scratched out number on the page. Rex, you were so kind and always so gentle. You're leaving us with disbelief and sadness. I hope you know that you were a part of our little family at Summit and will be sorely missed.

“ Where do I start. I can't remember a day that I did not see a smile on his face. He was always so nice. He blessed us with his looks. A gentleman in every sense. I will miss him greatly.

“ When we met Rex he was the most amazing young man. Full of love and life. Not only a big heart but big dreams. Always kind to others and gave with his all. He was a great young man who was always friendly and such a gentleman for such a young man. Very respectful and working to a future. I cannot say enough good things about this young man. He will truly be missed and has placed a special spot in my heart. He will forever be loved. Fly high and free Rex! Love Elaine

“ The smile that made you smile even harder. Such a beautiful soul and a well rounded young man. His energy was contagious and just made you feel good. Rex you will be missed! My heart aches because my friends hearts are broken, your parents Alan and Carla and your Big Sis Kam. It still seems unreal. Please smile down on them, and all of us at times, so that we can still feel your presence. I will cherish the conversations we were able to have at times. I remember how proud you were to show me your new bike. The talk we had when you lived by yourself for a while, the talk we had about your future and plans which involved driving, although your mom was not with that lol. I know you are smiling and crying. Rex I know you've seen the impact you have made on everyone. You were and still are so loved. Rest In Heaven sweetheart. I just chuckled at the crazy costumes you wore you enjoyed that ❤️ Love you Shiwann
