“ Condolences and Prayers to my family as we prepare to lay my Uncle Vic "Soupy Sayles" to rest. He was a wonderful and amazing Man, whom always kept a smile on his and if you had a chance to meet him you'd definitely remember him by that. He introduced me me to Frankie Beverly & Maze, The Isley Brothers, The Commodores, and few other great artists, just to name a few, because he always had them playing and he always had a good vibe, you just wanted to hang out with him and be in his company of fun and laughs. He was just smooth and easy going. He would allow me to talk to him and he would listen, never raised his voice but would always give me advice about how to go about solving my problem and would make things easier for me to deal with whatever it was. He would always tell me to keep God first. He was always there for me, no matter what. I will truly miss him and the bond we shared. Much love Uncle Vic, until we meet again.
